We hope your holidays were happy ones, filled with laughter and music. In this new year, we want to bring you more music and happy times, something we can all use. To reach that goal, we invite you to our usual events: The Irish Traditional Music Sessions, the Folk Open Sing, the Upper West Side Song Swap and the Shanty Sing. More fun will be had at the Mystic Chantey Blast, the Golden Festival, and the Trans-Atlantic Hoot Night. Check them out.

Of course, the Folk Music Society board meetings are a blast of another kind. As of this writing, the votes are not yet in for next year’s board. These are the people who make sure that our music continues. It looks like there will be openings next year for the board. Contact Clarice at 718-429-3437 if you want more information about serving on the board. Be sure to leave a message if you miss her. We could always use more help.

The Folk Process

by Ruth Lipman

Already a multi-instrumentalist, Toni Field is now taking on the mandolin. Here’s what she has to say about her learning experience at the Irish Arts Center [IAC]: "I have been taking a group beginning mandolin class at the Irish Arts Center during the recent Spring and Fall ‘semesters’ (only 8 weeks each). The term ends with a Ceili party at the IAC with performances by both students, teachers, and the IAC Ceili band as well as dancing for all. The Irish Arts Center has quite a variety of instrument, dance, language, and storytelling classes and is an ideal venue because the classes are quite small and the fees very reasonable. (In fact, during the Spring semester I was the only student in the class and so had private lessons!) Many of the classes are conveniently given in studios in Midtown rather than at the Irish Arts Center itself, which is all the way on the West Side. I recommend this as a good way to try out an instrument if you're uncertain about it, as you're only committing to 8 sessions. In addition, many of the teachers are really excellent. Check out their website on line [https://irishartcenter.org]."

Joanne Davis recently moved back to New York City. She says that she is looking forward to connecting with everyone again after recovering from moving. Welcome back Joanne. We will all be happy to see you again.

As for yours truly, this month marks thirty years that I have been writing this column. Please keep sending in your news.

Paul Stein posted this on his facebook page and we thought our members would be interested in seeing it.

Once again, a pleasure to join my friends from The Folk Music Society of New York/Pinewoods bringing holiday musical cheer to residents of this Jackson Heights nursing home. Led by Eileen Pentel and accompanied by Carlos Vasquez on guitar and yours truly on accordion, the spirited group of singers raised spirits throughout the floors, with everything from Jingle Bells and White Christmas to Feliz Navidad and Ocho Kandelikas. Unfortunately, a few of our singers are outside the photo. As always, residents are not pictured here to protect their privacy.
