ANDY COHEN; Friday, February 27th, 8 pm

Andy Cohen grew up in a house with a piano and a lot of Dixieland Jazz records, amplified after a while by a cornet that his dad got him. At about fifteen, he got bitten by the Folk Music bug, and soon got to hear records by Big Bill Broonzy and the Jim Kweskin Jug Band, both of which reminded him of the music he grew up with. At sixteen, he saw Rev. Gary Davis, and his course was set. He knew he had it in him to follow, study, perform and promote the music of the southeast quadrant, America’s musical mother lode. Born in Massachusetts but a Southern boy at heart, he is both entertaining and true to the bone. His repertoire is largely from street singing geniuses across the South who spent the first half of the last century cadging among passers-by for dimes. And although he has published extensively on certain regional aspects of guitar picking, it is plain that he picks because it’s fun. Andy has traveled around the U.S. and Canada for a generation and a half, collecting and playing these songs and tunes. Like his instruments, and like himself, they show the patina of age and are energetically presented. You are invited to his website, www.andycohenmusic.net, for a sample or two.

At the office of Organization of Staff Analysts, 220 E. 23rd Street New York., suite 707 (between 2nd and 3rd Ave). (On-street parking is available after 7pm.) Concert Admission $20; Members and Full-time students under 23 admitted free. Advance tickets on-line at www.folkconcert2.eventbrite.com. Info: 718-672-6399. See flyer

BLUES GUITAR WORKSHOP with Andy Cohen;
Saturday, February 28th, 2:30-5:00 pm

Advance Registration Required!—see information next page

DOUBLE TROUBLE 20th Anniversary House Concert;
Saturday, February 28th, 8 pm

Jean Farnworth and Evy Mayer were already solo performers when they started performing as Double Trouble in 1989. Evy sings and plays ukulele, guitar, dundeeck and other percussion instruments, and collects popular songs of the early 1900’s as well as rounds, humorous songs, world music, singer/songwriter and children’s music. Jean sings and plays Celtic harp (32 strings, 45” tall), and 12-string guitar. She includes Renaissance, traditional Celtic music, vintage blues, as well as songs she has written, in her repertoire. It is easy to see why “What kind of music do you play?” can be a difficult question for Double Trouble to answer. Lyrical and haunting on one song, and boisterous on the next, they handle their instruments with authority and project their voices with beauty and clarity. Twisted, yet sensitive; multi-cultural; extremely

Blues Guitar Workshop with Andy Cohen;

Saturday, February 28th, 2:30-5:00 pm

Advance Registration Required!

This is an intermediate level workshop. It will be helpful for participants to have an understanding of finger-picking with an alternating bass. Andy will go into detail about playing blues with and without an alternating thumb-bass while finding melody notes with finger or thumb, going up and down the neck, how syncopation works, and several other guitaristic secrets. He will walk the participants through a couple of complete songs and (without promising miracles) leave them with an ability to knowledgeably understand and play blues guitar. Andy Cohen is a truly amazing blues guitar player and singer, and has given countless concerts and workshops. He grew up hearing Dixieland jazz and “got bitten by the folk bug.” At sixteen, he saw Rev. Gary Davis, and his course was set. He knew he had it in him to follow, study, perform and promote the music of the southeast quadrant, America’s great musical fountainhead.

As I write this, it is Inauguration Day, and we have a new President. What an exciting time with many new beginnings. Usually FMSNY has new elected officers by now, but we were not as on time as President Obama. We have had to delay elected our officers until Feb 1st—although the board itself has been re-elected. So our new beginnings will be in February, and you, too, can have a new beginning by coming to our Winter Weekend. There are still spaces left, if you hurry and register. Hesitating? Picture music all around, a roaring fireplace, good food, jigsaw puzzles, wonderful scenery and much more. Information on signing up for the weekend is on page 2. See you there.

February will also bring us the series concert with Andy Cohen, a wonderful blues player, who will also be giving you the chance to participate in his workshop the next day. We have the Sea Music Concert and the Double Trouble House concert with Evy Mayer and Jean Farnworth. Remember that house concerts have limited space, so Continued on page 8

The Folk Music Society of N.Y., Inc/ N.Y. Pinewoods Folk Music Club presents

Andy Cohen
Blues Musician Extraordinaire

Friday, February 27, 2009, 8 PM
At OSA, 220 E. 23 Street, Suite 707
(between 2\textsuperscript{nd} & 3\textsuperscript{rd} Ave)

Andy does a sort of Country Blues 101. It’s broader than that, of course, covering material from before the twenties to about the fifties, and ranging over the several states to which Memphis is adjacent. He does material by Rev. Davis, John Hurt, Big Bill Broonzy, Gus Cannon, Frank Stokes, Memphis Minnie, Bukka White, Barbecue Bob, Charlie Patton, Ted Bogan, Henry Spaulding, or any of a hundred other blues people.

Andy has extensively studied the repertoire of Reverend Gary Davis who was from South Carolina, but lived in several places in North Carolina before coming to New York, finally and permanently. Andy issued a CD of his sacred songs and produced a tribute album to him (\textit{Gary Davis Style}), editing together twenty players who were either his students or ‘grand-students’.

\textbf{Members Free.} General admission: $20, Full-time students under 23 are admitted free.

tickets can be purchased at the door or online at: www.folkconcert2.eventbrite.com.

CD Review
“Into the Stars” -- Priscilla Herdman SDM 2001

It’s always a pleasure to hear this performer’s beautiful voice and her very interesting choice of material, whether singing solo or as part of a celebrated trio (with Anne Hills and Cindy Mangsen). This solo CD, her tenth, reflects her fascination with the majesty of the night sky and the glories of the universe. She hopes, later on, to create a multi-media show using some of the songs, combined with photos from the Hubble Space Telescope.

This album covers a wide range. There’s the wonderful, light-hearted Eric Idle “Galaxy Song,” explaining space facts and measurements “in a most delightful way”, and Don McLean’s brilliant “Vincent,” inspired by Van Gogh’s “Starry Night” and the artist’s tormented life. There’s a John McCutcheon song, “Sail Away,” in honor of the WW II Danish Resistance efforts to smuggle Danish Jews to neutral Sweden by boat, under cover of night, and “Satellite Sky,” a bouncy plea for more peaceful times. (It reminded me of the night I was standing in an Alabama field in 1957, watching Sputnik go by overhead). Other thoughtful, questioning songs include “Comet,” plus Mary Chapin Carpenter’s “Ideas Are Like Stars,” and then there’s “Blue Boat Home” (new words set to a Welsh hymn tune), which celebrates our own planet as it sails through the sea of stars.

There are love songs as well as songs of lost love, and there are poetic numbers, image-filled journeys as we tumble through the cosmos, drinking in its wonder and magic. “Firefly Lights,” about heartbreak and loss, was inspired by that little gem of a book, “The Lovely Bones,” and on the lighter side, there’s “The Moon’s Song,” by Anne Hills, with the patient moon looking down at our foibles, providing a healthy dose of perspective.

It’s a delicious recording, with the songs backed up by other talented musicians on guitar, piano, bass, cello, octave mandolin, violin, percussion, and more, plus harmony vocals. For an unearthly experience, do pick up a copy. Order from: Stardreamer Music, PO Box 800, Pine Plains, NY 12567--0800, or online (and to hear tracks from the CD), visit http://www.myspace.com/priscillaherdman.
