May is Meetup Month

Meetup? What? Meetup is the flip side of social media. Facebook, Google+, Twitter – these on line communities bring people together face to cell phone. You’ve seen them, sitting next to each other, communicating with who knows where via smart phone signal. That’s a fine tool for staying in touch with far flung connections. But, what about those friends near at hand, those we know and those we don’t yet know?

Meetup is “neighbors getting together to learn something, do something, share something...” At www.Meetup.com, you can connect and get together in person with people who share your interests, whatever those may be – music, meditation, shyness, pythons or poetry – 6,222 groups in the NYC area. Poke around on the Meetup website; use the search box to plug in a term – folk, dance, pottery, whatever.

FMSNY has its own Meetup, listing our activities, at www.meetup.com/Folk-Music-NYC. Some of our Meetup members have come to Folk Society events -- and posted comments about the fun they had.

To join Meetup, you need an email account and a password. Profile pictures are optional. When you join one of the groups, you can set email preferences for email alerts about upcoming events. Other folk music related groups that might be appealing: NYC Country/Bluegrass Gospel Music Meetup - New York Folk Music Meetup - New York I Love to Sing Community Jams Choir and Gatherings - Amateur Celtic Folk Musicians (NYC) - NYC Guitars Group - New York Scottish Country Dancing Group - New York City Ukulele Meetup Group - NYC Bluegrass Slow Jam Meetup Group - New York Bluegrass/Old-Time Harmony Singing Meetup Group

When you’re on line, navigate to the Meetup page, www.Meetup.com, and check it out. Make plans to get out and meet up.

CD Review: "Love Rises" -- Joanne Davis

At last, her first CD, with more to follow. "Right up there with Malvina Reynolds," I've heard said. "World Class," says Bob Franke. And from Bob Sherman (Woody's Children/WQXR): "A gifted songwriter...very, very funny...real, touching songs of human relationships."

Folks love her warm, highly personal performances, the poweful use of images, her "witty, occasionally wacky" humor, and her amazing range -- "songs that will break your heart or break you up with laughter." See her in person if you can -- in various California venues, sometimes in the N Y City area -- but in the meantime get this excellent CD, 50 minutes that run the gamut, with song lyrics and her comments included.

There are laughs aplenty. The "Broken Bagel," a 'broken token' song that always convulses audiences. The brilliant (and delicious) "Chocolate." "The Personals," her true-life reaching-out adventure. The tongue-in-cheek "Song of Struggle" (on a benign battlefield), with its choice, clever lines. And the cheery update of familiar "Nursery Rhymes."

There are fine, upbeat songs, like "You Set Me Singing" and the "Round-Again Waltz," with its gentle, elegant marriage of words and music. There's the thoughtful, nostalgic imagery of "The Tall Grass." And best of all, the intense, moving songs about her own kids, including my favorite, the powerful and touching "Naomi's Song (Weaving)," which brings tears to my eyes every time. It's a treat to know the remarkable and talented Joanne Davis, and here's YOUR chance to be touched by her magic.

She accompanies herself on guitar and concertina, with additional instramental assists by a fine cadre of her friends. The CD is $15. Shipping is $2 ($1 each for add'l copies). It can be ordered via email. at joannesing@earthlink.net , or by snail mail, Joanne Davis, 2917 MacArthur Blvd, #1J, Oakland CA 94602. For more info and to sample several songs, her website is joannedavismusic.com. Happy listening.
