Legends – a series showcasing some of the great performers in various folk fields.

Widely acclaimed for their lively and entertaining presentations of English folk songs, John Roberts and Tony Barrand have performed at major festivals, colleges, clubs and coffeehouses throughout the US, Canada, and their native Britain. From Your Education Committee

Nearly everyone in our Folk Music Society is aware of the concerts and the weekend getaways that our Program Committee organizes, and most members also know about the community sings, singing parties, and ice cream socials that our Social Committee puts together. But how many of us are aware of the events that our Education Committee presents?

These have included classes and instructional workshops, demonstrations of traditional folk styles, presentations and seminars on various topics, and a particularly popular type of workshop known as a performance-talk. A performance-talk is somewhat less than a formal concert but far more than just a lecture. It is, instead, a truly interactive event in which the presenter not only performs songs or tunes, but also discusses them, answers questions, and welcomes comments from the audience. Sometimes members of the audience contribute songs to the discussion.

Our most recent performance-talk took place this past March 29 when Peggy Seeger presented Images of Women in Anglo-American Traditional Song. Thirty-three people attended.

Upcoming events organized by the Education Committee include Dan Levenson's instructional workshop on clawhammer banjo (May 17), Kathy Wallis's performance-talk on the Folk Songs, Stories, and Rituals of Cornwall (May 30), and Bob Walser's presentation on the James Madison Carpenter Collection of traditional song and folklore (June 11). Information about these events and more can be found in the Society's monthly newsletter as well as on the FMSNY website (www.folkmusicny.org).

PETE SEEGER CELEBRATION SING-ALONG

More than 200 people crowded into the downstairs hall of the Community Church of New York on April 12, as the Peoples' Voice Cafe held a sing-along to celebrate the life and music of the Pete Seeger, who passed away in January at the age of 94.
The Folk Music Society of New York co-sponsored this event, and board members Steve and Marilyn Suffet helped organize it. In addition, Steve was among the more than two dozen volunteers who led the singing, as were FMSNY president Evy Mayer and vice president Anne Price.

This was the third Pete Seeger memorial sing-along that our society has co-sponsored.
The two earlier ones took place at Judson Memorial Church and John Street Church on February 21 and March 2, respectively. Both events were also very well attended.
